Flexible Control Cables

For generations people have tried to build machines and plants which take on different functions. To raise, sink, slide, drill, transport and much more, and have attained fantastic results.

Today we control, inform, weld, pack and transport automatically by electric control and data cables.

These cables are necessary to ensure a frictionless flow of data and material. We are able to offer most of these cables for many applications. On the following pages we present cables for the corresponding applications.

If you cant find a suitable cable in our catalogue, we can fabricate this special cable on request already from 100 m or maybe we can offer you a similar cable from our stock.

HELUKABEL® has one of the biggest stocks of special and standard cables in Germany and excellent logistics and wants to prove itself every day.
