

Pre-assembled cable protection systems for robotics and handling systems

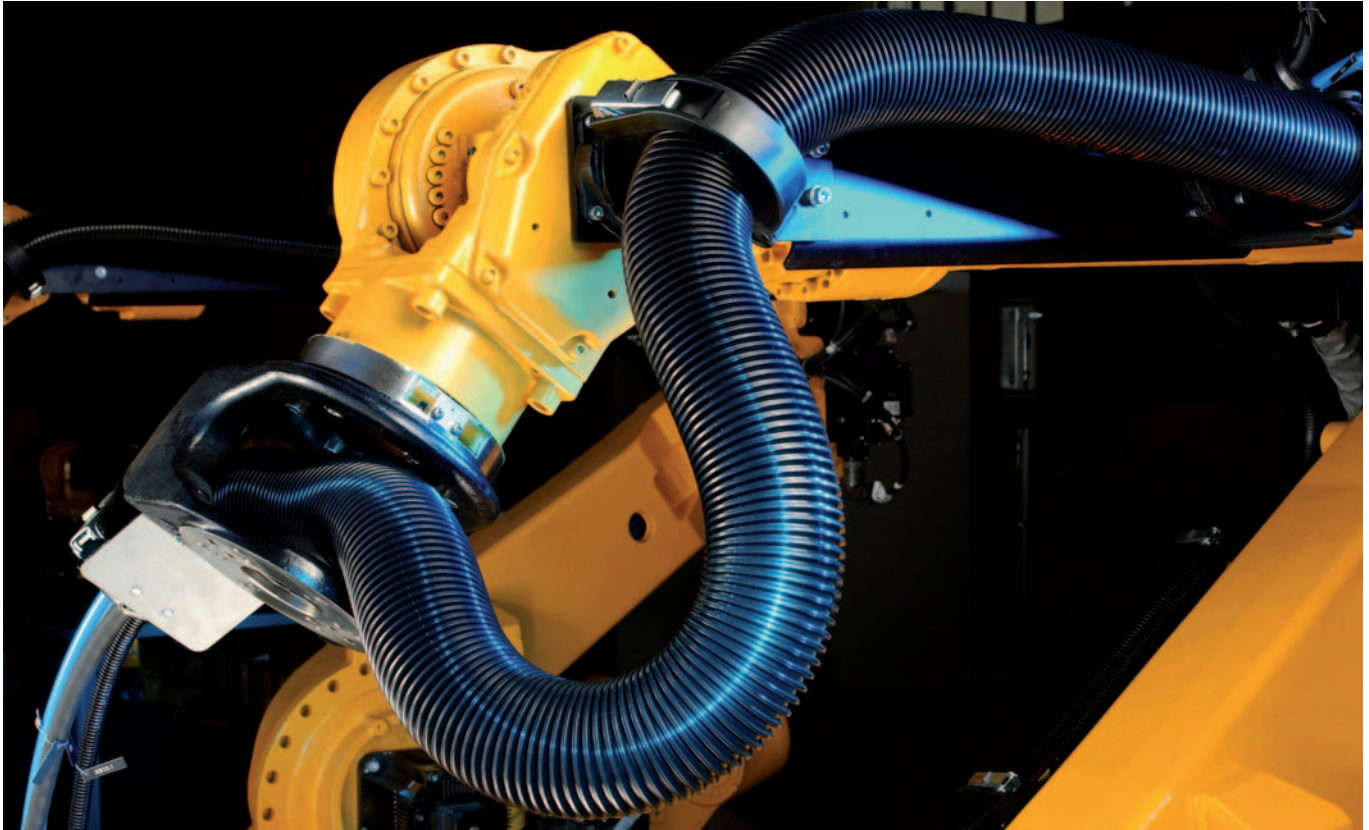

Photo: Helukabel®

After more than 25 years of experience with cables and wires, we have the solutions that fit the requirements that have come to us through the use of robots. With HELUROBOTICS, we offer specially assembled cable protection systems. From the planning, engineering and assembly to installation and servicing, we offer a wide range of complex solutions as individual or special solutions. The cables, wires, add-on systems and the cable protection system that is used are then tuned to the application, built and installed. This includes manufacturing and development, including the metal components, for handling, MAG and spot-welding, as series, individual or special solutions as well as service and installation.

Just call the number below. We'll be happy to advise you.
Phone +49 7150 9209-355, -765, -182